THE 1935 RECORD

PUBLISHED BY THE
SENIOR CLASS OF MERCHANTVILLE HIGH
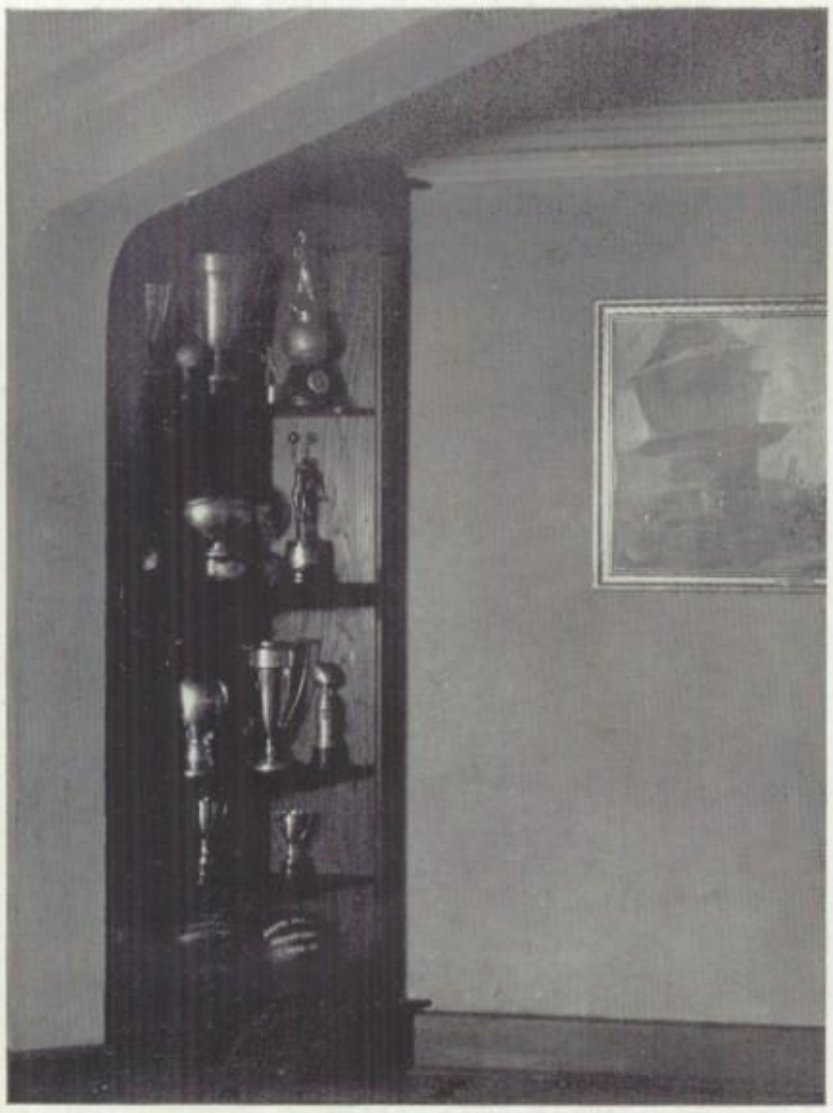
SCHOOL . . . . .
MERCHANTVILLE
NEW JERSEY



CHAMPIONS

THE past year has been one of unusually high achievement not only in the field of sports but also in other extra-curricular activities in M. H. S. In view of this outstanding record we, the staff, have chosen the armored knight as the symbol of this Year Book in recognition of the glories won by our champions.

DEDICATION—

DURING the past year the efforts of J. Hunter Howard were recognized by the Board of Education, who advanced him to the position of Principal. In evidence of the satisfaction with which this was received by the student body, we, the class of 1935, in appreciation of his co-operation and kindly interest in our activities, both social and scholastic, do dedicate to him this, our book.

J. HUNTER HOWARD

JOHN W. KRATZER
Supervising Principal

J. HUNTER HOWARD,
Principal

ELIZABETH D. ARMSTRONG

MIRIAM MCALLISTER

JOHN R. BEERY

AS WE leave Merchantville High School, we realize what a debt of gratitude we owe the entire faculty for the friendly interest which they have taken in us and our activities. Especially is this true of Mr. Kratzer, who has been untiring in his efforts to maintain in Merchantville High School that high standard of achievement of which we all are so proud. When we were in trouble, it was the quiet patience and reasonable understanding of Mr. Howard that helped us out of our difficulties. Much credit also must be paid to our three highly esteemed advisers: Miss McAllister, who has by her helpful advice and wise council largely contributed to the success of this book; Mrs. Armstrong, through whose management the class financial journals have been capably supervised; and Mr. Beery, whose contagious enthusiasm and spirit should have inspired us to greater success in our ticket drives.

SENIORS

GEORGE ANDERSON

"Andy"

"What can I do you for?" George usually has his sentences a little twisted, but we always know what he means. Maybe it's because he's a Swede—tall and lanky at that. George's popularity in study hall is not odd, as he always has a complete list of chemistry questions to hand around. We all thank you for this, George, and wish you "many happy returns."

BETTY JANE BAKER

"Betts"

"Betts" is one of our gang of whom we are mighty proud. She upholds a standard that is hard to surpass and is well worth having. As a consistent honor student, she greatly raises the standing of the school and sets a mark for several of our less ambitious students to aim for. We understand that her greatest ambition is to be empolyed in a bank. She is positive to reach her goal if she maintains her present capability.

RECORD Staff, 4; Class Treasurer, 3; Aerial Staff, 3, 4; Interclass Volley ball, 4.

FLORENCE D. BECK

"Specky"

Florence is Miss Kime's very tiny secretary. Her hobby is taking long walks,—tramps through the woods, that cover great distances. She also is quite fond of brunettes. You've heard of titian beauty, with the cream and peaches skin; if you haven't met our Florence, we don't know where you've been.

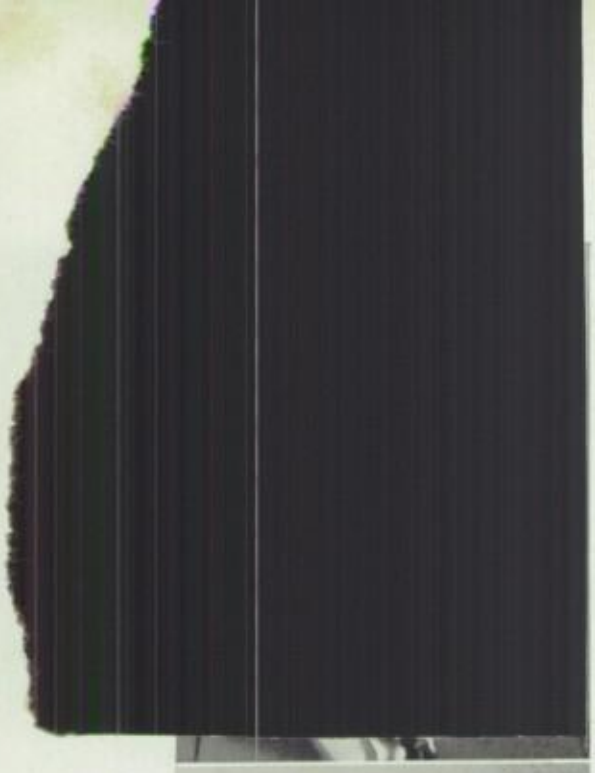
Glee Club, 2, 3, 4.

EDWARD BELL

"Ed"

"Ed" is one of our lads who can boast of having the melodious tones of his violin come through the speakers of the thousands of radios which were tuned in at station WCAM on the afternoon of the big broadcast. Some stuff, eh keed? Who would have ever thought that we would have an ensemble of violins good enough to broadcast. He has an eye for the girls that cannot be surpassed. Any damsel that he does not know is not worth knowing. Take it from us.

Class Night Committee, 4; Christmas Cards, 4; Senior Play, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3; Camden County Pageant, 4; Orchestra, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 3, 4.



RICHARD BIBIGHAUS

"Joe"

The teacher asks a question. In the far corner of the room is heard a slight rumbling answer, discernible by no one. That's "Joe." He may be quiet, but he sure does get the high marks. He greets everyone he meets with the raise of his right hand, and a lusty, "H'ya, Joe." He is noted for his sly manner of getting teachers angry, especially Mrs. Pentz. Boy, some fun. That's "Joe," always good for a laugh.

Student Council, 2, 3, 4; Record Staff, 4; Monitor, 2, 3, 4.

Best Wishes
Earl

EARL BILLINGTON

"Hiram"

Earl is one of those boys who have helped Mr. Metzgar repair and build many things throughout the school. Among his intimate friends, he is known as "Hiram." To most of us, he seems quiet, but just ask any of the boys in the wood-shop or in the mechanical drawing class about that. Besides being a draftsman and a carpenter, Earl is also a musician—he plays the guitar.

Assistant Stage Manager, 2, 3, 4.

BLANCHE BLAHOS

"Blanchie"

Here's our class flirt! Blanche is extremely fond of the males, and is usually to be found near them. If you should hear someone calling "Oh, Eck," you need look no farther: you've found Blanche. If Blanchie couldn't be moving all the time, it would be a sad world for her. She loves to dance and laugh. Her motto must be, "Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we die," for she certainly is merry. Life holds no dull moments for her, as everyone is glad to have this cute, vivacious personage in their midst.

Student Council, 4; Class Night Committee, 4; Cheerleader, 4; Aerial Feature Editor, 4; Play Cast, 3, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3; Camden County Pageant, 4; Glee Club, 2; Tri-Hi, 3, 4; French Club, 4; Geometry Club, 2; Dramatic Club, 3. Laureate Society.

MARY PRISCILLA BLOUCH

"Prissy"

That little turned up nose is what "gets 'em." Yes, Mary has the kind of nose that goes with a gift of gab. We hear that she is quite the golf fiend. It is hard to imagine anyone her size swinging a good-sized club, but she thinks it's easy, so we'll take her word for it. Marco Polo with all his travels had nothing on Mary; she has been every place he missed, and many more besides. Who knows? Maybe she'll be an American Consuless to China, some day.

Puppet Show Committee, 4; Play Comm't ee, 4; Swimming, 2, 3, 4; Aerial Staff, 3, 4; Play Cast, 3; Operetta Chorus, 2, 3; Camden County Pageant, 4; Glee Club, 2; Tri-Hi, 3; Social Chairman, 4; French Club, 4; Dramatic Club, 3.

EMILY D. BOOTH

"Billy"

Here's Miss Personality! She has had her name in many of the school papers of a certain Philadelphia High issued during the last couple of years, and she's the reason school boys go to Wildwood for the summer. A good actress, too, Emily's always seen in M. H. S. productions. Maybe that's why the practices proved interesting to her friends already graduated. Another outstanding thing about her is her kittens. Her motto is, "Love me; love my kittens."

Student Council, 3; Class Treasurer, 4; Record Staff, 4; Swimming, 2; Aerial Staff, 4; Play Cast, 3, 4; Operetta Cast, 3; Camden County Pageant, 4; Monitor, 4; Orchestra, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 2, 3, 4; Vice-Fresident, 3; French Club, 4; Geometry Club, 2. Laureate Society.

JEAN BOWDEN

"Jeannie"

Jean is the attractive young miss who stood at the end of the hall by Mr. Sudell's room and kept the lines in order all year. We wonder why she chose that particular place? However, she was an excellent monitor. Jean appeared at her best as "Coquette" in the senior play.

Student Council, Secretary, 3; Vice-President, 4; Chairman of Honor Society Committee, 4; Class Night Committee, Secretary, 4; Hockey Squad, 2; Manager, 4; Play Cast, 3, 4; Operetta Chorus, 2; Monitor, 3, 4; Dramatic Club Treasurer, 3; Geometry Club Secretary, 2; Art Club, 3. Laureate Society.

GERDA E. BRINK

"Gert"

Here is a little miss with a charming personality. Her sunny smile, her frivolous laugh, and her pleasant disposition make her admired by everyone. Dependability is her closest ally. It has shown her success throughout her school career. When backed by her ambition, we know that it will likewise carry her through life. Gerda should rightfully be called the class "busy bee."

Record Staff, 4; Christmas Card Committee, 4; Play Cast, 4; Essay Contest, 3; Swimming, 2, 3, 4; Aerial Alumni Editor, 4; Operetta Chorus, 2, 3; Monitor, 4; Glee Club, 2, 3, 4; Geometry Club, 2; Dramatic Club, 3.

ELIZABETH BUDD

"Buddy"

Betty is one of the outstanding class athletes. Be it a hockey or basketball game, she sparkles where the fray is thickest and hardest. Her school spirit knows no bounds, and she is very well known for her sportsmanship. Everyone is familiar with her light-hearted laugh, especially in French class. Oh, can she translate French (even if it is backwards)!

Varsity Basketball, 2, 3, 4; Varsity H ckey, 3; Captain, 4; Inter class Baseball, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Volleyball, 4; Swimming Club, 3 Operetta Chorus, 3; Monitor, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Perfect Attendance, 2; French Club, 4; Track Team, Interclass, 4; Play Committee 3, 4.

JOHN K. BYRNE

"Jack"

"Jack" is one boy who started life as a small child and has now grown to be quite tall! If you know "Jack," you also know the graceful way he stands while talking to Miss Powell in the library. His pet hates are: work, women, and more work. He is given to chewing candy in history class, and is not adverse to teasing Ethel Foy when he gets the chance. His chief interest besides eating and sleeping is airplanes.

Hi-Y, 2; Operetta, 3.

JUNE CAVEROW

"Cavaro"

A pretty name for an attractive brown-haired girl. June is a good student, but oh, so temperamental! She can speak French almost as well as she can English. In fact, she corresponds with five or six French males, and has them all intrigued. Maybe they give her tips on the styles, because June always is one of the first to display the newest fads.

Student Council, Chairman Monitor Committee, 4; Class Night Committee, 4; Play Committee, 3, 4; Aerial Staff, 4; Operetta Chorus, 2; French Club, 4; Dramatic Club Secretary, 3.

MALCOLM E. CHANCE, JR.

"Chump"

Malcolm used to be a chubby little rascal. Now we know he's no longer chubby, nor little, but we are not sure of the rascal part. His tall, well-built form is offset by the latest in men's clothing, which he wears with a style all his own. Malcolm does what he wants, when he wants, and how he wants. We all like his genial ways and his bright brown eyes. And can he dance! Ask anyone who knows. With all those fine points, what a personality!

MARTHA CHASE

"Motts"

If a herd of pupils should suddenly whiz by you and almost knock you over, and a few minutes later, they are followed by a light figure tearing after them, don't be alarmed: it is only Martha, rounding up Mrs. Sheaffer's play people. You see, she is her faithful secretary, and that is one of her duties. Martha looks quiet and demure, but we have discovered that she can add a good share of chatter to any conversation. Yes, she is friendly and good-natured; and she always has a smile for everyone.

Interclass Volleyball, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Dramatic Club Play, 3; Operetta Chorus, 3; Glee Club, 2, 3; Perfect Attendance, 2; Aerial Staff, 3, 4.

LEWIS CLIFFORD

"Lew"

Lewis is the boy who takes Saturday afternoon trips to Philadelphia, and talks to girls on the telephone for thirty minutes at a time. It is astonishing how many colds he can develop when that would seem to be the best excuse to use in English class. His dry wit makes respectable people lose their dignity by becoming tearfully hysterical at some of his remarks. He claims to be a woman-hater, but oh, do his actions contradict his words! Maybe that's part of his charm.

KATHRYN CONSTANTINE

"Connie"

"Connie" is the girl distinguished by snappy eyes and brown curly hair. Her smile dazzled us. Her spunk and fight on the basketball floor are well known, and she is readily acknowledged as a good sport. It is astonishing how one so sparkling should suddenly lapse off into a dreamy spell; but after all, don't we all? Here is a pal to everyone, and a girl of whom the class should be proud.

Varsity Basketball, 2, 3; Varsity Hockey, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Baseball, 2, 3, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3; Dramatic Club, 3.

CHARMION COULTER

"Charm"

Here is our best dressed girl. She brings the air of 5th Ave. straight from New York right into our own village. In fact, she has modeled several times at the Walt Whitman Hotel in Camden. What style! Charmion just loves the movies. When she isn't adorning the Fox in Phila., Saturday afternoons find her gracing our local palace. At times she may seem a little remote, but fear not, she's only thinking of what to wear tomorrow.

Christmas Card Committee, 4; Play Cast, 3, 4; Operetta Chorus, 2, 3; Camden County Pageant, 4; Glee Club, 2, 3; Tri-Hi, 2, 3; Service Committee, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; French Club, 4.

MAMIE ELIZABETH CRONEBERGER

Mamie is very fond of swimming. She is such an ardent supporter of the Swimming Club that it would be lost without her. Every Friday afternoon our chum could be found swimming around the pool at the "Y." They say she is quiet, but that's only what they say. The most outstanding characteristic of Mamie's personality is her good humor. She can "take it" and she'll laugh at any joke, just to make the joke-teller feel good. Mamie is the kind of girl we all like to have around.

Aerial Staff, 4; Swimming Club, 4; Perfect Attendance, 2, 3, 4.

DEL ORME K. DANA

"Diana"

Remember the assemblies during football season? Every Friday morning we saw a young man on the platform who looked the height of masculinity. Strangers, of course, would take him to be one of our rough and tumble football heros. He did not, however, participate in football, but he did make a swell manager. Wasn't he cute though? His singing ability is also known throughout the school. Can't you imagine the deep notes rumbling from the depths of his powerful chest?

Operetta Chorus, 3; Orchestra, 3, 4; Glee Club, 3, 4.

CONSTANCE DILKS

"Connie"

Here's "Connie," the sizzling, scintillating, snappy one herself. "Connie" has a list of admirers a mile long, and a heart as big as a whale. And just try to list her nicknames! You'll get writer's cramp. "Connie" has innocent eyes, but impish ideas. She has never ceased astonishing the school in general with her practical jokes and amazing escapades. Originality, that's the word for it.

Record Staff, 4; Theater Benefit, 4; Interclass Basketball, 2; Swimming Club, 3, 4; Aerial Staff, 2; Assistant Editor, 3; Operetta Chorus, 2; Glee Club, 2; Tri-Hi, 2; Chairman Program Committee, 3; Vice-President, 4; French Club, 4; Dramatic Club, 3.

C. JOSEPH DRUCE

"Joe"

Who doesn't know "Joe?" He is one of our super-athletes. Baseball and football are his meat. Aside from that, "Joe" spends much of his time seeing fair Jane. "Joe's" a big fellow and does everything in a big way. He has a sense of humor and a good disposition. We expect that one of these days he'll be hooked up with the A's—and Jane.

Student Council, 4; Class President, 2; Football, Varsity, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, Varsity, 2, 3, 4; Golf, 3, 4; Perfect Attendance, 3.

ALLEN ECKMAN

"Eckie"

Here's our Eck, the secret passion of many girls' hearts. His black hair, black eyes, and well built form draw a great deal of attention, but they are only half of it. His nature, his personality, and his character endear him to the hearts of every student. The girls think he's sweet, and the fellows think he's swell. He's had a lot of hard luck lately, but he pulled through with a determined effort and a smile. No wonder we all like him.

Varsity Football, 2, 3, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3; Monitor, 4.

PEARCE EDWARDS

"Panty-waist"

We've all heard of "Panty-waist" Edwards, the handsome cradle-snatcher. He likes 'em young and open to the influence of his wiles. Pearce's easy-going manner will make him a nice, gentle grandfather, although he is, right now, the class sugar-daddy. We like his style and size, and his nice dreamy eyes. Pearce is well-known, well-liked, and sure gets along.

Student Council, 2; President, 4; Class President, 3; Vice-President, 4; RECORD Staff, 4; Football, 2; Varsity, 3, 4; Golf, 3; Gym Team, 2; Interclass Basketball, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3; Monitor, 3, 4; Geometry Club, 2.

WINFIELD F. FINK

"Fat Boy"

Winfield's just a mass of . . . well, just a mass. If you ever try to get down the corridor and think you have run into a black wall, don't get discouraged. Just knock twice and Fink will turn sideways and let you go on your way. All kidding aside, he is a swell guy. He deserved a lot of credit for his work on the football team where he played a bang-up game. What do you think, huh? He is an enthusiastic member of our newly formed golf team.

RECORD Staff, 4; Football, 3; Varsity Football, 4; Golf Team, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3.

ETHEL G. FOY

"Es"

Ha! Ha! If you hear that, you know it's Ethel enjoying someone's joke. She really has a sense of humor. It is no trouble to pick her out of a crowd, as she is made conspicuous by those deep, dark, and large eyes. Such eyes we never did see! Quiet and yet heard, that's Ethel. Her congenial good nature will win her many friends, as it already has. The Commercial Department of M. H. S. will lose an efficient girl upon Ethel's graduation.

Student Council, 3; Class Treasurer, 2; Christmas Card Committee, 4; Interclass Basketball, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Volleyball, 2, 4; Interclass Baseball, 2, 3, 4; Aerial Staff, 3; Operetta Chorus, 3; Dramatic Club, 3; Interclass Track Team, 4.

MARGARETTA FRITZ

"Fritzie"

Margaretta, or "Fritzie," as she is known to her friends, trips through life "on the light, fantastic toe." She is friendly, and a pleasant person to have around. "Fritzie" likes acting, also, and graced our senior play, "Prunella," as a dancing doll. We know that "Fritzie" will continue to glide along o'er the paths of the world; and that she will gracefully side step any obstacle that may happen in her way.

RECORD Staff, 4; Interclass Basketball, 2, 3, 4; Swimming, 2, 3, 4; Play Cast, 4; Operetta Chorus, 2, 3; Camden County Pageant, 4; Glee Club, 2, 3, 4; Tri-Hi, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3.

DANIEL McNICHOL

"Danny"

He's a knock-out! Dan is our real amateur boxer, and can he slay them! And another thing, just watch the ladies fall when they look into his blue eyes after a big fight. They just say, "My hero!" and fall swooning into his arms. Daniel is modest and quiet, but we're proud of him. Maybe some day he'll be big enough to fight Max Baer. Then what?

JAMES MELCHORE

"Jimmie"

Jimmy, one of our many Romeos, demonstrated his ability in the senior play, "Prunella." Playing the part of Pierrot, he portrayed the carefree and happy character of the mummer. Our handsome hero can act his love scenes especially well. Jimmy greeted us every Friday morning with the deep, melodious notes from his saxophone. His own inimitable smile distinguishes him from the rest of the class.

Play Cast, 3, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3; Orchestra, 2, 3, 4; Geometry Club, 2. Laureate Society.

EDWIN L. MEYER

"Swivel"

Would you ever think that Ed was the person in the orchestra who made all the noise? That was he, all right! Ed's voice may have been a little weak with his football announcements, but he certainly made up for it with his blaring trumpet. How his face would gleam among the hi-di-ho men of Blanch Calloway's orchestra. However, he'd probably end up playing in a Salvation Army Band.

Class Treasurer, 3; Football Manager, 4; Baseball, 4; Monitor, 4; Orchestra, 2, 3, 4; Geometry, 2.

CHARLES E. MILLER

"Ears"

To the girls, "Ears" looks like Atlas with that big chest and those broad shoulders. He really did give us many laughs in his role of a gardener in the Senior Play, and even off the stage he is always up to some hilarity. Usually he is in an argument about his ears or about the merits of his corncob pipe. Charles's middle initial is "E" and we never knew what it stood for, but we have decided that it must be "Ears."

Play Cast, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Geometry Club, 2; Aerial Sports Editor, 4.

MAURICE S. MOEN

"Mots"

An unusual lad, Maurice! With all the attributes of a shiek—tall, good looking, slim, and blond,—he has gone quietly about his business since he came to us three years ago from Pennsauken. Oh my! What admiration and despair his "collar ad" profile has caused the girls! A quiet, unassuming chap, he ought to wear well wherever he goes.

RECORD Staff, 4; Play Ticket Committee, 3; Christmas Card Committee, 4.

WILLIAM MORTON

"Bill"

Since Bill came to us from Frankford High, he has made an outstanding record in all his math subjects; even Mr. Beery relies on Bill's judgment of a difficult problem. All the boys in gym class will remember his dribbling the ball all over the floor and getting nowhere in a hurry. He loves to mutter before recitations, in an effort, we think, to scare the teachers. And his falsetto laugh! Oh, Bill! Stop it, you're killing us!

CATHERINE MOUNT

"C"

The girl with the ready smile! "The girl with a smile, is a girl worth while, when everything else goes wrong." Next to the teachers, Catherine does more work than any one else in the school. Her artistic talent, brains, and personality have been a valuable contribution to our class.

Valedictorian.

Editor RECORD, 4; Play Committee, 4; Interclass Track Team, 4; Aerial Staff, 3; News Editor, 4; Operetta Chorus, 2; Geometry Club, Vice-President, 2; Art Club, 3; Perfect Attendance, 3.

Laureate Society.

ROBERT S. MULHOLLAND

"Bob"

Meet Mr. Mulholland's son, Robert. A fine lad is "Bob." He's the boy who picks and saws at the strings of that tiny instrument known as the bass viol. The music he renders is a delight to everyone. His voice is the thing, though. When he sings, girls take notice. Then they look. Ah, dark and romantic! That's all—"Bob" has captured more feminine hearts. He is usually up to some sort of mischief, although judging from those innocent eyes, would you ever think it?

Orchestra, 2, 3, 4; Play Cast, 3, 4; Glee Club, 3, 4; Operetta Cast, 3; Monitor, 4.

ELNORA OLSEN

"Mugsie"

Although Elnora hasn't been with us very long, she has won many friends by her genial self. "Hello, honey," is the greeting we all receive from her. She is one of our brilliant girl mathematicians; no problem stumps her. It is always fun to receive new people into our class, especially if they are as nice as Elnora. We're only sorry that she didn't arrive here about two years earlier so that she might have had a larger part in our activities.

Class Night Committee, 4; French Club, 4; Monitor, 4.

HAL ORNER

"Kidder"

Gaze on that manly countenance, oh fair readers, and remain unmoved if you can. None other than our illustrious "Hal." He is an athlete who finds time to play basketball now and then: one of those energetic lads who continually wear a smile and always seem to be going somewhere. Mr. Orner takes a very fatherly interest in the current horseplay about the school, thus definitely proving himself one of the boys.

Football, 2; Basketball, 2, 3; Varsity, 4; Golf, 3, 4; Operetta Cast, 2; French Club, 4; Monitor, 4.

JOHN PAGE

"Tetched"

"Just a gigolo, every where I go," that's Jack. He walks around the school with that inimitable Page strut. He dresses in that inimitable Page style. As a basketball flash, he is quite the stuff. Many have been the times that "Tetched" was a hero in the eyes of the school. He used to push that old score up so quickly that we were left breathless. Good old "Tetched." He may not be exactly perfect,—no one is,—but his other qualities make up for any deficiencies he may have.

Class Secretary, 2; Basketball, 2, 3, 4; French Club, 4.

MILDRED PELZ

"Millie"

Meet Mildred, the girl with the laughing eyes and dimpled cheeks. Have you ever seen Mildred when she wasn't in hysterics about something? Or have you ever seen Grace or Jean when they weren't in hysterics about something Mildred has said? Her happy and willing disposition have made a name for her in the senior class and will carry her far when she leaves high school. She also proved that she had dramatic ability in the Senior Play this year.

Puppet Show Committee, 4; Swimming, 4; Tri-Hi, 4; Play Cast, 4; Monitor, 4.

ELMER PFANNENSTEIN

"Fanny"

If your radio ever goes on the bum, just call Elmer. He'll be only too glad to take it apart for you. He may have a few parts left over when he gets it together again, but what's the difference? It won't work anyway. Anything with chains, cogs, or pulleys greatly appeals to "Fanny." Never let him get his hands on your watch, or the first thing you know, you won't know anything, or you won't have a watch, or something. His conscientious efforts at soliciting ads put the rest of the class to shame.

RECORD Staff, 4; Play Committee, 4; Essay Contest, 3; Perfect Attendance, 3, 4.

ELEANOR PLOSS

"Plossie"

In its junior year, our class was brightened by a flash of color—Eleanor's red hair. With it came a girl full of pep and good humor. The traditional red-headed temper seems in this case to have centered in the fighting spirit which Eleanor showed to great advantage on the hockey field. We are told that Eleanor has a great ambition to become an actress, and if we know our red-head, she will accomplish what she sets out to do.

RECORD Staff, 4; Play Ticket Committee, 3; Interclass Basketball, 3, 4; Hockey, Varsity, 3, 4; Operetta Chorus, 3; Camden County Pageant, 4; Tri-Hi, 3, 4.

STANLEY POKORSKY

"Squeaky"

Stanley goes about his daily tasks with an air of determination. At all times he puts forth the greatest effort to accomplish his work. If he goes out into the world with the same determination he has maintained while in our class, he is sure to obtain success. Boy, he must be a healthy lad! Perfect attendance for three whole years. Many pupils would like to discover how this is humanly possible. How do you do it, Stanley?

Perfect Attendance, 2, 3, 4.

HENRY L. PRESTON

Henry has a grand sense of humor, and his ability to keep Ida Kunkle in stitches from the beginning to the end of a class is well known. He doesn't have very much to say, but when it comes to arguing algebra he is in a class all by himself. In his own small way, Henry is an authority on women's clothing and is constantly informing a certain young miss that he thinks her color combinations are terrific.

ALMA EMMA REAY

"Emmie"

Unknown by many, and well-known by very few, Alma quietly pursues her duties, cool and collected, in the midst of our noisy and energetic class. Having been born in a land upon whose soil the sun never sets, perhaps it is not peculiar that she has a typical "Johnnie Bull" spirit which at times presents itself. However, the more dominant of the characteristics is her cheery humor which makes her an enjoyable companion. Alma is a commercial student, but her hidden desire is to join the "White Parade."

GRACE E. ROBERTS

"Gracie"

Oh, Grace, is your face red! There she goes, blushing again. "Gracie" has a blushing ability that never fails to astonish us. Just at a word from anyone, her face becomes vermilion. Never mind! It's becoming. And we'll never forget her in French class, trying to make Miss Null understand her translations, nor in Mr. Beery's class, telling him the right answers. Grace really has the spunk it takes.

RUTH ROBERTSON

"Ruthie"

Under Ruth's quiet and reserved exterior a few lucky searchers have found a real pal. Ruth is the type of girl who puts every effort into her work, and we are sure this trait will bring her success. "Try, try again," is Ruth's creed; this doubtless from her Scotch ancestry. Outstanding among Ruth's accomplishments are dancing, flirting, and ensnaring a certain handsome blond diver.

Operetta Chorus, 3; Interclass Volleyball, 4.

JEAN ROGERS

"Ginger"

If you see a blonde girl walking down the hall busily studying her lessons, you'll know it's "Ginger." Besides being one of our honor students every month, Jean excells in trigonometry. She is known among her friends for her happy disposition. As "Prim" in the Senior play she proved herself more than capable of handling the part. Jean is one who will go far in later life, as her ambition can't be beaten.

FLORENCE SCHNEIDER

"Floss"

With her wit and humor, "Floss" is sure to get along. She's the soul of dry humor. Not only that; one usually finds her dancing around the school, or talking in the corners, to some members of the masculine gender. At any rate, she and her pals have been a big help around here. At lunch time, she keeps all the girls at her table from getting indigestion, by her puns and snatches of humor. Keep it up, "Floss," you'll be in Fred Allen's place soon.

CHARLES SCHOPPET

"Take a Letter"

Did you ever see a dream walking? That's Schoppet. He seems unconcerned about all that is going on about him, but he really does wake up once in a while to burst out with a few witty remarks. He's a whiz, no doubt about it. He's renowned for his seven course meal, which he brings to lunch—a big juicy tomato for an appetizer, then he dives into his six or seven weighty sandwiches. He finishes up with a large slice of cake and a big red apple. What a man is Schoppet!

PATRICIA SEATON

"Pat"

Who doesn't know "Pat," the most popular girl in the class? This charming classmate of ours has not only gained the spotlight as an outstanding athlete who captained the girls' first championship basketball team, but is an able and willing worker at all times. We know that "Pat" will reach great heights with her pleasing personality and demonstrated efficiency. Great success to you, "Pat!"

IRENE SIKORSKI

"Rene"

Irene is the type of girl you read about but seldom meet in real life. Her pet hobby is being kind to someone in need. Her flashing smiles and peals of jolly laughter have endeared her to the hearts of her schoolmates. There is also a definite time for work in Irene's life, and you'll never find her conspicuous by her absence when the hardest work is to be done.

ETHEL SMYTH

"Tiny"

Meet "Tiny" Smyth, the vest pocket artist of the senior class. Her name is Sm-eye-eth, not Smith. But it would take more than that to keep her from being the cutest girl in the class. "Tiny" is the one who is responsible for all the beautiful girls around the corridors of the school—on posters. "Tiny" hails from South America, and has a lovely English accent. Maybe that's why her French translations are rather unintelligible. Still, we forgive her all this, because—isn't she cute?

ELONA SOCHOR

"Emma"

"Watch out, Elona! You're going to break your neck." Such were the words of warning that Elona had thrust at her during Senior Play rehearsals. She had the tedious job of ladder climbing. Elona is a very hard working girl. She tells us that 2:00 A. M. is her retiring hour on school nights. Is it work, or is it what? We think it's what. However, she always knows her lessons. She can rattle the piano keyboard, too, until both she and the piano are exhausted. She'll get there.

PAUL SOUTH

"Southpole"

We believe that Paul's motto is "Hate all and look at none," when it comes to the weaker sex, for he never gave any of them a tumble. Paul had a special aptitude for Physics and was seen carrying radio books with him all the time this past year. Paul has a record which is not common among boys, for he has never been reprimanded for excessive talking.

Orchestra, 2.

ELIZABETH SULLIVAN

"Betty"

The boys stop and stare as "Betty" comes into the room. No wonder. Her black eyes and hair are enough to make anyone gaze in admiration. "Betty" captures every heart with her feminine wiles. As an oriental maiden, "Betty" would be good; as a French doll, she would be better; but as Mae West, she would be superb. Yes, "Betty" with all her charms, many times expresses herself in the West-ern style. How does Hollywood get along without her? Maybe some day her chance will come, and we'll see her starring opposite Clark Gable's successor.

CHARLES SUTTON

"Mike"

Here he is! Can we ever forget him? No! Just think of a certain football game last season, and then visualize Sutton, tearing down the field for a touchdown. We were surprised, but imagine his amazement! We always thought of Charles as a woman-hater, but lately he has been vice-versa. We must admit he is pretty nearly the acme of masculinity.

STANLEY SWIDERSKI

"Stan"

Meet the barber! Stanley has already completed a course in barbering; and when he opens up his shop, ten or twenty years from now, no doubt his fellow classmates will be quite ready for a hair cut. Perhaps, if he's good enough, some of the fair sex will stop in to have their "crowning glory" retouched. He should be good in that line, as he is quiet and calm at all times. Nothing can ever seem to disturb him. He is usually in that unlively state known to us as a "fog." All joking aside, though, Stanley is a good fellow.

JANE TALTON

If the saying, "silence is golden," is true, we can assure you Jane will receive more than her share of gold in the world. Although we don't see much of Jane, when we do see her, she has a pleasant smile for everyone. Jane certainly was an asset to her class baseball team, because she always seemed to come through in a pinch.

HENRY PHILIP TAYLOR

"Zeke"

Henry is our class badboy. No matter how hard he tries, he can't seem to keep out of trouble. If he's not talking out of turn, he's either throwing chalk or spit balls. Just a big overgrown kid who likes to play! He believes in the motto, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." He does little work, so you must see, he is quite a rambunctious youngster. He is always happy and never has a dull moment while he is within the walls of the school.

Orchestra, 2, 3.

CHARLES GALLIMORE

"Giggles"

The little boy that made good! Charles used to be that cute little tyke who slipped bashfully around the halls sucking his thumb. And then the cute little thing had to grow up. Now he is tall and straight and has gained his laurels on the basketball floor. But he was so cute and all the girls liked him so much. Of course, they still do, but just the same—why did he have to grow up?

NANCY JANE GASS

"Nan"

When one sees a small, curly haired girl tripping down the hall, one may be sure that it is Nancy. A smile and a cheery word from Nancy will brighten anyone's day. That same smile is without doubt the chief reason for her popularity. And such a small girl to attempt such a big job as cheer leading! But never the less, Nancy is always full of school spirit and ready to try to make the rest of the school have the same spirit as she has.

Sid is the man! And do the ladies go for him? Or should we say, does he go for the ladies? Well, in either case, he certainly is the perfect "ladies' man." We wonder if he ever gets home early after school? We doubt it very much, because he's always loitering in the hallway talking to one girl or another. Nevertheless the boys all envy him and the girls? ? ? ? ?

He's just a great big man from the South, minus the big "cigah" in his mouth. John knows all the answers and everything else besides. When Mr. Beery is at a loss for a witty remark, they are readily and willingly supplied by John. We hear his ambition is to be a jolly tar. Well, he's jolly enough now. All he has to do is to add the tar, and he'll be everything your little heart desires.

ROBERT GOETZ

"Gerts"

"Gerts" is that cute little thing who hangs around all the athletic contests and chums with our gridiron heroes. He can always be found in the gym or on the athletic field playing with those big athletic bullies and worrying the onlookers for fear he'll get hurt. Although he does not hold any athletic records, he does hold a record to be proud of! Every football, baseball, and basketball game played by Merchantville during the past few seasons was brightened by the shining personality of "Gerts."

"Cap"

"You've got to be a football hero to get along with the beautiful girls." "Cappy" is a football hero—and does he get along with the girls! Ask anyone. His big brown eyes, brown wavy hair, and muscular physique are just women bait. They can't resist him. Besides being a lover, he also shines in most of his studies. Go get him, girls. "Cappy" is popular with everyone; even the little tykes down in the grade school hang on his coat tails.

JEAN HAGEMAN

"Cowboy"

Putt-putt-putt-putt. Watch out! Here comes Hageman on his two-bit motorcycle. He's probably trying to run the thing on water this time. If Merchantville is ever blown off the map, blame it on Hageman. He is one of our enthusiastic chemists who experiment in stinks and smells. When everyone else in the Chemistry lab is running to the windows gasping for air, Jean is bending over the desk enjoying the fragrant aroma.

VIOLET HAINES

"Barr"

Here is Violet, an intelligent and clever girl. We expect some day to find her among the list of leading novelists or short story writers. Violet doesn't talk much, but when she does, it's a pleasure to listen. She and Irene find much to giggle at in English class, and with them to start it, the whole class is off. But if we all got the marks Violet does, we could teach the teachers.

Here's our quiet and dignified president. Jake has piloted our class skilfully through its last year. With him and his determined views, nothing went wrong. His school career followed that of a regular statesman. In his sophomore year he was treasurer, in his junior year, vice-president, in his senior year he attained the greatest office of all —our president! Not only that, he was voted as our most popular boy. There, that's just a small idea of Jake and his abilities.

This charming lass of the senior class of '35 has a very pleasing personality. She's sweet and gentle in her manner, and no matter with whom she seems to come in contact, she makes friends. Anna is one of the most reserved girls in our class. Small, quiet, and almost timid, she passes from class to class along with the rest of us. She never calls attention to herself, and one often wonders just what is under that dignified exterior which never is pierced. Her talents on the piano and guitar cannot be compared because none in our class has heard her play. A true little church mouse she is, as she faithfully does her part in our daily work. She will be the first bride of the class, for she is to marry soon after school closes.

CONRAD HEADLEY

"Geezy"

Not the big man from the South, but the big man from the West. Believe it or not, Geezy came from a ranch. Tall, blond, and handsome! Girls, what more could you ask for? And can that boy ride a motorcycle! Can a fish swim? He almost killed that poor machine, driving from his house—or from school—to the bakery on Center Street.

PAUL HECK

"Beech"

Don't rush, girls! Line forms on the right. The girls have to get in line to talk to Paul. He is that tall, handsome blond with the "expressive" blue eyes, as the girls say. He is very extravagant with his compliments to the fair sex, calling them "bright eyes," "beautiful," and "darling." "Did you hear the one about——." Telling the latest joke is one of his remarkable abilities. Though most of his time is spent with the damsels, he uses his spare time to participate in many of the activities.

CHARLES HENRY

"Smokey Joe"

Everything is peaceful and quiet. Suddenly in the distance is heard a low, scarcely audible rumbling. It gradually grows louder and louder, until it is deafening. The noise is unbearable. A siren-like screech pierces the air. Silence. Was it a cyclone? No. It was only "Smokey Joe" Henry, arriving at school in his Buick. He says it's better to ride to school than to walk, but we doubt it. Besides driving to school, Charles also drives on the golf green with a marked degree of success.

Small, dark, and cute is a fitting description for this little senior. To her close friends she is known as the possessor of unusual wit. This trait combined with her good-heartedness makes her very popular with her friends. She is always willing to help anyone in need and is the possessor of dependability and efficiency. Elbridge could be called an orator, debater, mountaineer, Irish cop, or any other name one could think up, if one judged by his personality, his activities, and his play parts. He reminds us all of the Cheerful Cherub. He just loves to tease people, although he isn't obnoxious with it. If, on a rainy day or a blue Monday, you are feeling excessively blue, just trot yourself around to Eddie Holmes, and you'll soon find yourself laughing and joking in spite of yourself.

Horner is an elongated edition to the class of '35. As he unwinds himself from his seat, there's some doubt as to the outcome. His throaty rumble is seldom heard in the classroom, but when it is, it's to the delight and astonishment of his teachers. He has a certain supercilious air that, combined with that patrician nose and absolutely classic profile, is sure to get'em.

D-d-d-d-do-do-do-do we like Booth or d-d-d-do-do-do-do we like Booth! Whenever he recites in class, it takes him five minutes to get primed up, and then you can't stop him. To the great joy of all the pupils, he wastes away a lot of class time and says nothing. Anyway, he's a great fellow and always good for a laugh. He's a good basketball player and participates in all the games he can. This is not his only participation, however. Oh me, he also participates in the game of love. He has a nervous right eye. RAYMOND HUSTON

"Reds"

This boy has a very pleasing disposition in spite of his red hair. We don't know whether it's a habit with Ray or not, but one day in law class we were told to look up the word "artifice." Ray looked up "artisan" which means a skilled worker; "artifice" on the other hand means a trick played upon a buyer or seller. There is some connection, because the trick usually requires a skilled worker to detect or perform such fraud. Well Ray, we hope you will become an artisan rather than an artifician.

ELMER JOHNSON

Where's Elmer? He's probably serenading some fair damsel with the silver-toned strains of his violin. Who knows? Elmer is a quiet lad, but they say the quiet ones are the ones who do a lot we know little about. He is one of the few who can boast of having played over the ether waves from station WCAM. The maestro of the violin, that's Elmer. We predict a Rubinoff or a Bernie. Who knows? Maybe he will play "Love in Bloom," and be a Jack Benny. He's quite a remarkable fellow. Music is not his only interest, however. Cogs, pullies, chains or anything mechanical also appeals to him.

His wit and good nature make him one of the most popular of senior students. His wavy auburn hair has won him "Reds" as a nickname. What's all the commotion down the hall? Three guesses. That's right, it's Cissy. She must be telling one of her comical stories again. Either that, or she's doing her famous impersonation of "Greta Kid." Ever since the first grade, Dolores has been famous for her cynical, ironical, humorous, and ever-ready remarks. Dolores always has had a desire to pep things up about school, and as throwing chalk and erasers is mere child's play to her, she decorates desks with bunnies, and douses undesirables with nice hot water. "Ed" has that illness which is known as "school-sick fever." He walks briskly to school in the morning ready to conquer the world. By the time the second period is over his face is sort of pale. During the third period he gets chills and his knees get kind of wobbly. "I really ought to go home," he says. "No, I'll stay!" Then he sits and argues with himself. "No, gosh darn, I must be sick." Thusly he obtains a pass to the nurse's office and starts on his homeward trend. However, he is seen after school playing baseball. We can't understand it!

Pardon my Southern accent. Pardon my Southern drawl. But I can't help it, I'm telling you all. You guessed it. "Jess" is just an old Southern colonel. His Southern drawl adds a touch of the sunny Southland to brighten up the classrooms. If you ever want to know if there is a man in the moon or if the moon is made of cheese, ask "Jess." He has made a fairly thorough study of the sky and the entire solar system. Don't be surprised some day if you read about "Taylor's Fifth Dimension Space," or about his leaving the dear old "terra firma" in a motor-propelled rocket to explore the vast unknown.

DOROTHY TURNER

Now that school days are over, we'll hear more from her. By the way, her greatest ambition is to be a missionary in Africa. A noble ambition, my child, a noble ambition! Well, we hope your dreams may some day be realized.

WILLIAM WAGONER, JR.

"Tarzan"

Bill received his nickname, "Tarzan," because of his ability, in his younger days, to swing from limb to limb on the favorite trees of the boro. Recently the big blond fellow was graduated from imitating his favorite hero, to the fine art of writing poetry. He has become quite adept at his new profession; especially since spring is here and he has many new fields in which to expand.

EDITH MAE WELCH

"Eadie"

Lookie! Lookie! Lookie! Who's that sweet little thing gliding down the hall? Ah me! Haven't we seen her in a beauty advertisement? No, she hasn't appeared as a model for advertising purposes; but if looks mean anything, she will surely join the ranks of professional models. Can't you imagine her gracing the pages of the Ladies' Home Journal as a sponsor of Pond's beauty preparations?

FRANCES ESTHER WELSH

"Peg"

"This is station KYW presenting Frances Welsh, charming singer of popular songs—" When we hear this we shall think of "Peggy," who has a fine radio voice as well as a talent for the piano. She's an all-round girl, too, with a pleasing personality and a willingness to help everyone. We know she will succeed in her chosen career—that of a nurse, and the "White Parade" will be better for having her in its ranks.

LAWRENCE WITTWER

"Hitler"

"Only a fool would go to school." Of course, we don't class Lawrence as a fool, but he does go to school. "Through no fault of mine though," mutters Lawrence. He's the boy who's a whiz at trigonometry and geometry and all such "high fallutin' " subjects. Remember French class, when Lawrence used to stun us all with those wizardly French translations? But they were few and far between.

CHANDLER YARNALL

"Hoo!"

Shy, but "Still water runs deep," and you can never tell what he is up to. He may be shy towards the fair sex, but what a great pal to the boys! Math IV is the evil of his life, but then, Chan, isn't it the avenging menace of everyone's life? That football is one of his delights is easily to be seen when you watch him out there on the field always doing his best for dear old M. H. S.

ELIZABETH YOUNG

"Betty"

"Who's that blonde driving that snappy looking car?" someone asks. "Why, that's "Betty" Young, our class beauty," someone answers. Yes, there's "Betty." Her athletic abilities are known over South Jersey, and her social affairs have carried her into the whirl of Penn State and Darthmouth gaieties. In spite of all this, her scholastic standing is high. She, in her three years in M.H.S. has added a bright spot to its highlights.

WESLEY YOUNG

"Wes"

Though quiet and earnest, "Wes" has been a partaker of the fun in our school activities. He makes no fuss or flurry about his affairs, but is just as peppy as the next one when the occasion calls. He has helped to cheer our teams on to victory, although not a participant himself. He puts all he has into his work and really tries hard in his school studies. "Wes" already has half of the game won as a result of his steady nature and good sportsmanship.

IDA ZIENNKER

"Zienny"

Ida is one who believes in the saying, "Do not speak until you are spoken to." She is a member of the quiet group that keeps things moving while others take the credit. She has been blessed with a dimple in the middle of her chin which is very deceiving to the fellows, as this is said to be the sign of a flirt.

Record Staff, 4; Aerial Staff, 4.

WILLIAM EMERSON

"Cog"

One of our "champs!" Bill's contribution to sports in Merchantville has not been small. As a member of two championship basketball teams and at least one baseball team, he performed admirably. The nickname of "Cog" was well chosen, for he played an important part in the winning of those championships. Bill has a sunny disposition and is well liked by all.

Baseball, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, 2, 3, 4.

HAROLD GROVES

"Whitey"

Harold Grooves left us once, and returned in his senior year. Because he is so very fond of lifting his desk lid and talking to members of the fairer sex near him, Mr. Beery has named him the "Shiek." Harold is witty and is able to get across his joke with a serious enough expression. He is fond of golf and is quite the experienced caddy.

Knights and Daze of "1935"

1932

September 10—Sophomores at last! More worries than ever, especially for the poor souls who are taking biology.

November 29—Back from Thanksgiving vacation, the majority of us look rather vague when asked questions. Too much turkey I suspect.

1933

February 4—Believe it or not, Charles Schoppet received 100 in bookkeeping exam.

March 22—Well, tonight's the night. Merchantville High School is presenting, "The Wedding of the Painted Doll."

June 5—Only two more weeks of school. Am I glad!

September 26—Pearce Edwards elected president of the Junior Class.

October 17—Conrad Headley made his first appearance at school today. The female population is all agog, especially Irene Sikorski.

December 15—Moments that seem a year—John Williams kissing Martha Chase in the dramatic club play, "The Man Who Stole the Castle."

December 19—Mary Blouch brought a new swain in the library this P. M. She's brought so many that Miss Powell has given up counting.

1934

March 21—With the coming of spring ninety-five per cent of the Juniors have already started counting the days till June fourteenth—seventy-five.

March 23—Our operetta, "An Old Spanish Custom," went over with a big bang, partly due to Elbridge Hoff's ability to dance the Irish jig and Dolores McFeeley's deft handling of him.

April 17—7:30—Boys' game with Ramsey for state championship begins.
9:30—We lose by two points.
11:00—Jimmie Brickley discovered pulling the old stowaway act. The brat!

May 3—Junior supper night. Mr. Beery, whom you would expect to do something like this, compared the number of people attending the banquet with the number of bricks of ice cream consumed. Results were staggering!

May 5—Junior Essays due Monday. I wonder who thought of that idea anyhow!

May 12—Merchantville made the headlines today when the student body lost their gift of song.

May 21—Jane Hughes and Joe Druce had another rendezvous in the hall today. Maybe it's love.

June 1—Charles Miller, the mandarin in our Junior Play, manipulated his fan with a grace that would put Sally Rand to shame. We'll never forget Morton Lovelace and his incense burner passing the time away.

June 1—Orville Johnson in his own inimitable way convulsed the audience with his essay, "The Fallacy of Trying to Become President." The essays of Violet Haines and Paul Heck were awarded the prize by unanimous vote of the judges.

June 7—Exams tomorrow! Ninety per cent of the class will burn the midnight oil tonight; the other ten per cent will trust to luck to get through. Oh, well, such is faith.

June 14—One hundred and five Juniors with but a single thought. Vacation begins tomorrow.

September 8—First day of school and only forty more weeks to go.

September 11—Noses are in the process of elevation. The reason—we're Seniors.

September 28—Blanche Blahos is considering giving lectures on "How to keep the male sex at your beck and call."

October 14—Seventy per cent of the senior high bought Aerial subscriptions. Who said miracles never happened?

October 28—Will someone please give Joe Druce a balcony? Then he can romeo Jane Hughes in the proper setting.

October 30—Grand fracas with Moorestown in front of the school tonight. Needless to say, they got the worst of it.

November 6—Yesterday Jean Bowden appeared dressed all in blue even to the fingernails. Today her nails have resumed their natural color. Guess the opposition was just too much.

November 29—(Every day for that matter)—Ida Kunkle, giggle, giggle, giggle, giggle.

December 5—Orville Johnson's car (vintage 1910) was put to good use today helping to advertise Senior Play, "Prunella."

December 6—Sad but true—The senior play was an artistic success but where was the audience?

December 7—"Wottaman" Bell managed to keep perfectly still for two and one-half hours in the play. He made a grand statue, don't you think?

December 23—Elbridge Hoff, his tenor voice slightly off key and drowning out every other sound, lead the carolers through the halls this morning.

December 28—Everyone was shocked to hear that Allen Eckman, Clarence Grear, and Joe Guidara were among those seriously hurt in an automobile accident.

1935

January 2—School reopened, and I guess we all made resolutions about being prepared, doing our own work, and all that sort of thing.

January 17—What makes Martha Chase twirl her pencil so much in history? Nerves, maybe.

January 28—Jean Hagemann arrived at school on a motorcycle. This should be a great boon to Jean as it will increase his chances of getting to school on time.

February 4—Miss Browning, the new gym teacher, made her advent in school today. Mr. Elder was responsible for the blonde part of it.

February 8—The marionette show added a much needed thirty-five dollars to our treasury.

February 11—Do we or do we not go to Washington? Or as President Cleveland would have said, "It's a situation that confronts us, not a theory."

February 18—Pearce Edwards, president of the Student Council, was this day detained in detention hall. Fauncy that!

February 27—Mr. Fry of Lehigh University made some very interesting experiments in assembly and smoked a sociable cigarette with Mr. Bishop.

March 3—Catherine Mount elected editor of 1935 RECORD.

March 10—First game in the series of Faculty-Senior games, starring the famous Susquehanna Flash—J. Edgar Bishop.

March 19—Representative from Bucknell here today and talked to us on Alaska. At the close of her speech many of us were undecided as to whether she represented a college or a travel agency.

March 22—Spring fever—girls are getting their come-hither looks out of cold storage and are the boys responding? And how!

March 25—Moving day in Miss McAllister's room, all good friends and talkers separated.

March 28—The world at its worst—boys' basketball team missed the state championship by one point.

April 4—Sidney Glynn is going temperamental (ninety per cent temper and ten per cent mental.)

April 11—Bright spot of the day—Helen McIntyre and Mr. Sudell tried to settle their differences in class this P. M. They've been trying for three months.

April 15—Merchantville went to town this year and closed the basketball season with championship teams.

April 18—Mr. Broomall is married. I know it's a blow, but bear up bravely, gals.

April 26—The Senior Hi-Y presented "Desperate Desmond" in assembly. Collins Horner took the laurels for his ability to leap over hills "with the greatest of ease."

April 30—Typical recitation in Mrs. Sheaffer's fourth period English class. "Well David Copperfield married this a-a-a sweet young thing and then she had to go and die or something anda oh-h-h, I forget the rest."

May 1—Two hundred and seventy three-words written for this history—only eight hundred more to go.

May 2—Regarding Senior Essays—Dolores McFeeley claims she wrote her essay in an hour. Maurice Moen, "I've just finished my essay and, boy, is it good!" Catherine Mount, "I've written only three hundred words, and it's due tomorrow."

May 3—Senior Essays due—'Nuff said.

May 6—Mr. Sudell is wondering why Margaret Lockett is always absent in the afternoon. He isn't the only one.

May 8—Will wonders never cease? Today the Kratzers purchased an automobile!

May 23—Washington tomorrow!

June 2—Bill Morton, the class's shrinking violet, is the only person who isn't worried about that trig exam tomorrow.

June 11—Class Night—the class went dramatic in a big way.

June 14—Graduation day! Those who were worn by the trials and tribulations of weary days spent here will pass to even wearier days spent somewhere else.

THE FOIBLES OF '35

TAKE a dash of Shakespeare, a portion of Bernard Shaw, a little Galsworthy, and a touch of Eugene O'Neil, then mix the ingredients thoroughly. What do you have? Why the acme of artistry, of course,—the Class of '35's original three-act play, "The Foibles of '35."

The curtain rose on the first act revealing the lobby of a cosmopolitan hotel, the New Yorker, the luxury of which (the scenery was home-made) was outdone only by the grand array of "glad rags" donned for the great occasion by the proud parents. The opening scene was one of great activity (belittled, however, by the remark of one of the bell-boys who iterated, "Jake Hankins slipped me a plugged nickel last night." (We don't think our president would slip anyone a slug, but the bell-boy sounded very convincing.) This was soon forgotten, though, when a couple of self-conscious newlyweds, in the persons of Conrad Headley and Irene Sikorski, appeared in the lobby and went through some rather amusing incidents such as usually befall those in a like dilemma. The highspot of the act was reached when Morton Lovelace, the distracted colored porter, Sufficient, found himself toting a grip containing dynamite. Great was our surprise, and his satisfaction, when, after going through a period of slap-stick maneuvering, he dropped the suitcase and found the contents to be altogether to his delight. Following this, June Caverow a poetess, came into the lobby burdened by her volume "Weeds and Grass." The feeling she put into her work drained her emotionally dry and left the clerk so mentally unstrung that the curtain fell.

After a brief lull in which the orchestra, led by "Jack Benny" Bell, demonstrated its ability, the second act opened in a barber shop with Joe Bibighaus as the barber and Gerda Brink as the manicurist. Joe's customers were a young husband, Charles Gallimore, and a Jewish papa, portrayed by Charles Miller. The difficulties arising in these situations were erased with the advent of the hill-billies who sang "Broadway's Gone Hill-billy," bringing the curtain down.

As the third act curtain parted, a blaze of color, song, and dance, climaxing all that had gone before, greeted the audience. The setting was the roof garden of the hotel. The dancing of the chorus, the scintillating harmony of the two "X" sisters, and the puns of the debonair master of ceremonies, Pearce Edwards, were the "top." The act concluded with the class song which was sung by the entire class of '35.

Thus the Class Night of '35 came to a dramatic close on June 11.

The committee, consisting of Paul Heck, chairman; Jean Bowden, secretary; Edith Welch, business manager; Nancy Gass, June Caverow, Edward Bell, Edward McGinley, Elnora Olsen, Elona Sochor, and Frances Welsh, had "gone to town."

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

THE Student Council consists of representatives from all the home rooms of the junior and senior high school, under the direction and guidance of Mr. Beery and Mr. Bishop. The regular duties of this body are the organization and supervision of the monitor system. The Council also has charge of the Laureate Society, which stands for honor, scholarship, and service. Medals are given each year to seniors who prove themselves worthy of them. This year the Student Council sponsored a lecture in assembly and instituted a uniform system for keeping class treasury records. Suggestions or complaints from persons in the home rooms or the office are presented, discussed, and a solution for the problem decided upon.

AERIAL STAFF

RECORD STAFF

THIS year The Aerial, in the form of a mimeographed magazine, has been outstandingly successful, receiving second place in a national contest sponsored by the Columbia University Scholastic Press Association. Its success is also shown by the fact that 70 per cent of the senior high school subscribed to it. This high attainment of the publication has been due to the conscientious work of our editor, Paul Heck. He has been assisted by a capable staff consisting of Catherine Mount, News Editor; Dolores McFeeley, Literary Editor; Blanche Blahos, Feature Editor; Gerda Brink, Alumni Editor; Ethel Smyth, Art Editor; Dorothy Turner, in charge of Production; Charles Miller, Sports Editor, and Katherine Jefferies, '36, Sports Editor and Editor-in-Chief elect. The Aerial was published eight times during the year under the supervision of Miss McAllister; Miss MacIntosh, Production, and Mr. Sudell, Advertising.

THE Orchestra is perhaps the only school organization that has proved itself invaluable to other Merchantville High School organizations and activities. Aside from the regular musical contributions at every assembly, they assisted at all class entertainments, including the plays and contests, Baccalaureate Service, Class Night, and Graduation exercises. Recognition of their ability was given them outside the school when they were asked to play for the New Jersey Congress of Parent-Teachers' Association at the Walt Whitman Hotel in Camden, and to broadcast over W.C.A.M. Thirteen members took part in the Orchestra of the Camden County Music Festival. Through graduation, the orchestra will lose a charter member—its concert master, Edward Bell—as well as Emily Booth, Del Orne Dana, Elmer Johnson, James Melchore, Edwin Meyer, and Robert Mulholland.

THE Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, under the direction of Miss Rudderow, add much to the enjoyment of the school. The girls held their meetings each Wednesday morning, and were entertained by the varied talents of each other. Because no time could be arranged during school hours, the Boys' Glee Club held their meetings after school. At Christmas the Girls' Glee Club sponsored a concert for both assemblies at which the Leisure Time Band of Camden County was heard. Also at Christmas the corridors echoed with the old familiar carols sung by selected groups from the combined clubs. A delightful assembly program was given in May. As their final activity, the groups served as the choir at the Baccalaureate Service.

HI-Y

TRI-HI

THE Hi-Y group, under the presidency of Elbridge Hoff and the guidance of Mr. Smiley, has this year carried on the good work of the organization. It has held its regular meetings each Thursday morning during the school year and, in addition to enjoying the inspiring talks of selected guest speakers, has benefited spiritually by numerous religious discussions. The program of activities included participation in the inter-Hi-Y Club basketball league, a swimming party at the Vocational School, and last but not least, a dramatic presentation entitled: "No, No, a Thousand Times No," which gives us the opportunity to publish the above picture of our Hi-Y members in character.

THE Senior Tri-Hi left nothing undone to add to the already fine record of this splendid organization, which is a branch of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Armstrong again proved herself to be an inspiring guide to this group; and Patricia Seaton, this year's president, has proved herself a most capable leader. Many activities marked the year. The Spring and Fall dances were outstanding events. Easter flowers were sent to a hospital, money appropriated for the Honor Society, and Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets provided for deserving families. The Mother and Daughter Banquet held in May was voted a most successful affair. Tri-Hi members also served at several school dinners. The June senior farewell party closed a year of tangible accomplishments.

"PRU-NELLA"

EACH year the Senior Play forms an important social and financial event in the year's program for the graduating class. In our search for something just a bit out of the ordinary, we chose "Prunella," a whimsical, sparkling romance by H. Granville Barker and Laurence Housman. Prunella is a sweet and demure maiden who has lived a sheltered and secluded life in the home of her maiden aunts. The tale unfolds as "Love" speaks to her of a wonderful world outside, and she runs away with Pierrot, leader of a band of traveling mummers.

Elona Sochor, with her long golden curls and blue eyes, was a perfect Prunella; and Jimmie Melchore thrilled us with his romantic interpretation of Pierrot. A large bouquet is deserved by Ed Bell for his very difficult, still very superb performance as the statue of "Love," who comes to life and straightens out the tangles in the love affair of Prunella.

The dramatic success of this play was made possible by the very capable directing of Mrs. Sheaffer. The interpretive musical background was supplied by the High School Orchestra under the direction of Miss Rudderow. The stage management and lighting was efficiently managed by Mr. Metzger.

CHAMPIONS

THIS year the boys' football team, managed by Edwin Meyer and trained by Coach Elder and Assistant Coach Broomall, brought to Merchantville High School their first Tri-County League championship. Not content with this honor alone they won the South Jersey championship also.

The only stumbling block of the season was Palmyra where our team came out underneath with a total of 7 points to Palmyra's 9 points. A cold bleak morning in November will be remembered by many as the day we defeated our rival, Moorestown. Another impressive incident was the Swedesboro game in which Charles Sutton, tackle, ran 50 yards for a touchdown.

Joseph Druce, center and captain of the team, brought many honors to Merchantville High by being placed on the Tri-County League team, the All-South Jersey team, and the All-State Group two team. Chandler Yarnall, who always has been outstanding in athletics in the school, capably filled his position. Warrington Brown also played very well at end. Cappy Grear, halfback, surpassed his performances of former years. The other halfback position was aptly filled by James Flowers. Quarterback Bill Keville displayed brilliant headwork, and fullback Lennon exhibited unusual ability in handling the pigskin. The tackle positions were cleverly handled by Allan Eckman, Conrad Headley, and Winfield Fink. Harry Cook, Sam Warren, Pearce Edwards, and Charles Campbell filled the guard positions. Ramel, Pfeiffer, and Guidara were excellent substitutes.

HOCKEY

THIS year Coach Myrtle Walkdon's hockey team entered a much more difficult league than ever before. In the Class-A Jersey Scholastic Field Hockey League, we faced ten strong opponents, and were unable to go as far as we would have liked. However, it was our first year in the league and our girls sailed through with unsurpassable spirit.

Our entrance into the "big league" was made auspiciously in a game with the girls from Collingswood High, last year's champions. We were handed our first league defeat in this game but our girls established for themselves a wide admiration for their do-or-die fighting spirit. In addition to directions from Coach Walkden, the team received advice from Assistant Coach, Eleanor Jones; and our manager, Jean Bowden, of the senior class, was unanimously voted "The best manager we ever have had."

Kathryn Constantine, center forward; Pat Seaton, left inside; Betty Young, left wing; Eleanor Ploss, right halfback; and Betty Budd, (captain) center halfback will be lost to us by graduation. Loretta Flynn, peppy little right wing, will not play with next year's team either. This leaves Evelyn Huber, Anne Millen, Kathryn Oakford, Marjorie Heck, Pat Ferris, Irma Rothgerber, Betty Sexton, Betty McKee, Lavetta Davis, and Betty Evans to carry on the work next year. We wish them a successful and victorious season.

CHAMPIONS

MERCHANTVILLE High's fair varsity basketeers added yet another chapter in this year's story of champions by capturing the Tri-County League Championship with a perfect record of league victories. Under the very efficient guidance of Coach Myrtle Walkden and Assistant Coach Edith Budd, our girls, managed by Hazel Matthews and captained by Pat Seaton, guard, played brilliantly with spirit and precision throughout the season. Betty Young, the team's stellar forward, won the highest shooting score in the league with a score of 189 points, and Connie Constantine, sparkling forward, came in third with a total of 170 points. Three of our girls, Betty Budd—center, Betty Young, and Connie, participated in a foul shooting contest at the Taylor School, in which Connie placed with a score of 19 out of 25 shots.

The team will lose by graduation: both forwards; Dot Turner, substitute forward; Pat Seaton, our very popular and capable captain and guard; and Betty Budd, center. Of the first team, only Betty Evans, guard; and Evelyn Huber, side center, remain; but Marjorie Heck, guard, Margaret McHugh, side center, and Mary Oakford, forward, are very promising material for an equally good team next year.

The girls' interclass basketball championship was cheerfully annexed by the Class of '36.

CHAMPIONS

CHAMPIONSHIPS are not unique for the boys' basketball team of M.H.S. This year's team bettered previous records by winning all games but three. These three, with Camden, All Star, and Clayton, respectively, resulted in keenly fought contests with the winners attaining a lead of not more than two points. In the State Championship, the team climbed as far as the semi-finals where it was stopped by Cranford in an extra period by a margin of one point. However, they did win the Tri-County and South Jersey Championships.

The team was piloted to victory through the efforts of Coach Robert Elder and Assistant Coach John Beery, and by the directions of Co-captains Bill Emerson and Jake Hankins. Bill Emerson displayed a superior skill in basketball this year, which gained for him the position of center on the Tri-County League team. Jake Hankins, who will long be remembered for his long shots, played an excellent game as left guard. Charles Lennon, the high scorer of the league with a total of 167 points, brilliantly cared for his position at right forward, while his team mate, James Flowers, often provided many a thrill for the spectators. The position of right guard was capably handled by Jack Page. Edward Powell, Burton MacNichol, and Bill Keville were the able substitutes. Charles Lennon also gained a berth on the Tri-Country League Team.

CHAMPIONS

AS THIS Year Book goes to press, the baseball season is still in its infancy. However, with most of last year's team returning, and many new prospects coming out, Coach Elder and Assistant Coach Sudell have every hope of capturing the Tri-County League Championship again this year. Charles Gallimore is the able manager.

Joe Druce, who has played on the baseball team for four years, again returns to his pitching box to be the mainstay of the team. Bill Keville resumes his place as catcher, while James Flowers and Warrington Brown are tackling first base position. Bill Emerson, replacing the memorable "Whimpy," is playing a second base; Charles Lennon, second base; and Harry Cooke, shortstop. Chandler Yarnall, Elmer Budd, and Burton MacNichol play left field, center field, and right field respectively. Lemuel Wallace is relieving Chandler Yarnall at left field. Howard MacMadon, Louis Clifford, Edwin Meyer, Edward McGinley, Charles Straub, David Kolb, Sidney Glynn, and Allen Seimes will provide ample substitutions.

(Editor's Note—Final returns show the baseball team to be the Tri-County League Champions.)

M. H. S. GOLF TEAM

CHAMPIONS

FROM a group of boys which last year did not have the advantage of a coach or the backing of the school has developed a champion golf team, champions not only of class B schools but also class A schools. This year Mr. Beery undertook the job of coaching the team and certainly has fulfilled his requirements splendidly.

Setting off to a fair start, the golf team had to be content with a tie in the first match of the season with Camden Catholic. However, they soon swung into their pace and kept winning repeatedly. The next keenly contested battle was with Collingswood in which Merchantville eked through with a 13½ to 11½ victory. Palmyra and Woodbury did not provide much opposition as they were both defeated by the score of 19 to 5. In the match with Haddon Heights for the class B championship the team came out two points ahead of the "Heights." Haddonfield was swamped by a score of 17½ points for M. H. S. to its 6½ points, The victory gave us the class A championship.

The team, captained by Harold Groves, consisted of eleven players. As only eight of the players contested in matches, the remaining four were privileged to challenge the highest, scoring four of the eight players to a match for a chance to displace three of the four for the next set of matches. The players were Harold Groves, captain, Alfred Reay, Hal Orner, Stanley Pokorsky, Alfred Druce. Joe Druce, Charles Henry, Leonard Easley, and Norman Figuero.
